This Week's Awards.

Well done for another amazing week of work from all of you. I cannot believe how superbly you have taken to BH@Home and more and more of you are earning credits, badges, certificates and commendations as the days go by.

Today's Hymn.

(Sung by the Salisbury Cathedral Choir.)

I have chosen this version as not only is it a beautiful rendition of Morning Has Broken but I, and Barrow Hills, have a link to Salisbury. My last job was in Salisbury at a school called Leehurst Swan. I was very lucky to visit the magnificent cathedral and meet the Head of Salisbury Cathedral School, Mr Clive Marriott, who is now one of our Governors.
