

Bird watching

picture	bird	frequency	reason pigeon	4	They eat seeds and lots of natural food blackbird	16	They breed in gardens and woods
	House sparrow	0	They eat lots of the food and vegetation that we grow
	Black headed gull	1	Because we are near a large bodies of water magpie	9	They were bred to eat slugs and other harmful animals
	Blue tit	1	They get food from the nearby houses
	robin	3	They also get food from the nearby houses

	Carrion crow	2	What they eat: Carrion, insects, worms, seeds, fruit, eggs and any scraps.
	Song thrush	1	Eat earthworms chaffinch	0	The diet is very varied and this no doubt has a bearing on the success and widespread distribution of the species. Natural foods include seeds, fruit, buds and shoots, plus insects, spiders, earthworms and snails eggs.
	starling	0	worms, snails, insects, which we don't have many of Coal tit	0	Thy breed in small trees greenfinch	0	The greenfinch nests in bushes, hedges or trees. The nest is built from moss, lichen and fine twigs and is usually lined with horsehair.

Interesting fact

