

Sir Chris Hoy

The world's most successful track cyclist EVER

Facts

- He was born on the 23rd March 1976 in Edinburgh, Scotland.
- He is around 6ft tall.
- He has written a series of 10 children's books called "Flying Fergus", 'How To Ride A Bike' and also a book called "Be Amazing"! Sound Familiar?!
- He has his own website called ChrisHoy.com.
- He owns his own bike range called Hoy bikes.
- He has won 6 olympic gold medals and 1 silver medal.
- Sir Chris Hoy is Great Britain's joint most successful Olympic athlete of all time

London 2012

Sir Chris Hoy of Great Britain wept tears of joy when he collected a gold medal winning the Men's Track Cycling Keirin final. The win was his sixth gold, surpassing Sir Steve Redgrave's previous best for a British Olympian.

Hoy Bikes

Hoy bikes is a bike company founded by Sir Chris Hoy himself. It used to produce only adult bikes but then stopped and started to make childrens bikes instead. Hoy Bikes are very light and are great quality for children that love riding bikes. I have a Hoy bike myself and it's so light and I love riding it when I can.

Inspiration

Chris, who grew up reading Roald Dahl and was inspired to cycle after seeing the film ET, reflects that books are now a big part of his own family life at home near Manchester.

Be Amazing!

“Be Amazing”, is a book that teaches young people to never give up and to follow their dreams no matter what.

ARE YOU READY TO BE YOUR OWN CHAMPION?

YOU HAVE THE POWER TO DO SOMETHING EXTRAORDINARY.

A Quiz Question From Himself

Please click the image below

And The Answer is...

Please click the image below

